Capt. Cassard Joked Despite The Pain After Fatal Explosion In Waveland

(Copyright 1954 Sea Coast Echo)

By GREGORY FAVRE

Captain Joe Cassard is dead. He died as he lived. A brave man, a true humorist. A fine policeman. His life was claimed by fire. He suffered a scorching pain. Yet he did not complain. In his last moments he knew time had come. He faced it without fear. When his body was engulfed in flames he joked. The ambulance carrying him was in a wreck. His first concern was for his companion.

He displayed all of his outstanding qualities until his last breath. The 72-year-old retired policeman was burned at his summer home in Waveland. It was a tragic accident. Eddie Murlough, of the Superior Gas Company, was filling the captain's tank when the explosion occurred.

He said, "There was a tank. I ran for the truck to turn it off. After I had pulled the hose out of the yard and turned the key off in my truck I ran around. I saw Captain Cassard in flames.

I jumped over the fence and ran to tear his clothes off. I tried to run through the fire to get him. I do not know why I did not catch on fire. My wife then came out of the house. We were able to put the fire out.

"About that time some help came. My hands were burned. I had I couldn't even help to get him up. They took him to the hospital."

Eddie said, "The Captain didn't die at all when he was burned. He kidded his wife by telling her to take his wallet out of his pocket because he had a 20 dollar bill in it. He didn't complain of the pain at all."

"I don't know exactly how the fire started. I found the Captain's cigarettes and lighter by the sink. I believe that he lit a cigarette and the leaking gas caught fire."

Captain Cassard was taken to the King's Daughters Hospital in Bay St. Louis. He was met by his wife and son. He was accompanied on this trip by his old friend and policeman in New Orleans, Ed Gibson. Gibson is now a resident of Waveland.

Gibson said, "Captain was conscious all the way. He had a great head. We held a conversation all the time we were riding. He told me that he had a darn dollar bill that was burned. He told me about some lots he had sold in Waveland. And he asked me about law dealing with real estate in Mississippi. We talked over old times. He asked if his face was burned. I told him that he just had a few freckles on his face. I pointed to freckles on my face.

"He told me that we weren't traveling too fast. At the time we were doing about 50 miles an hour. When we reached the state line a Louisiana policeman met us. He flagged us on the side and went ahead of us. We began to travel about 70 then.

Ken Whitfield, owner of the ambulance, said, "The official police report showed that the ambulance never traveled over 55 miles an hour. And the driver's report showed that Captain Cassard died of burns and did not suffer any injuries in the wreck."

"The Captain was very calm. We continued talking. When we reached Paris Road behind Higgins we saw the fire. The ambulance began to swerve from side to side. It began to rock. We were going for a car with women and children in it. Coco LaFontaine who was driving the ambulance turned the wheel so we wouldn't hit them. We side-swiped the car and hit the curb. That is when we started to turn over."

"After we were back on the wheels the Captain, who was lying on the floor looked up at me and asked if I was okay. That's the type of man he was. He was always thinking about the other fellow."

An odd thing that happened was the sheet that the Captain was wrapped up in was torn to shreds. I don't know how it got in that condition.

Gibson continued, "Captain Cassard's whole body was burned like a roast turkey. The smell of the burned meat in the ambulance was horrible. I asked him what he was doing lighting a cigarette near the gas tank and he said he didn't light one. He said the fire started when the gas came into contact with a little fire that he had burning in the yard. He told me that it was almost out and he wasn't worried about it."

Organizations joining in the movement of welcoming and honoring Bay St. Louis first Governor of Boy's State and President of Boy's Nation are the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, American Legion, The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Council 1532 of the Knights of Columbus, The Main Street Baptist Church, The Rotary Club and St. Stanislaus College.

A committee composed of Laurent Dickson, George Heitzmann and Claiborne Ladner have been named to handle the details for the official greeting of Perry at the New Orleans Airport on Friday night. Mayor Scafield and Mayor DeLesseps Morrison of New Orleans and other officials will meet Perry and welcome him back to Dixie. Local Legionnaires and Knights of Columbus are expecting to have several car loads of members at the Airport.

On Saturday, "Ted Perry Day" a mammoth parade is planned according to "Doc" Dickson. The parade of cars will assemble around the point of Dunbar Avenue on Ulman and Carroll Avenues, Dickson said. He added that the committee hope that every car in Hancock County will be open to the general public. The parade will start at 2:00 p. m. and wind through town and finally end at the Hancock County Courthouse where the Key to the City will be presented to young Perry by Mayor Scafield.

The car cavalcade will leave the courthouse in Bay St. Louis at 7 p. m. Friday evening. A police escort will go with the group to the Louisiana State line where another escort patrol will pick it up and lead it to the airport.

Official representatives and delegates from the named groups as well as City and County officials will attend a dinner in Perry's honor at noon on Monday at the Hotel Motel, according to Heitzmann. A fine dinner will be served at low prices to the guests attending the low festivities, he said.

This dinner is NOT limited to members of the above groups but is opened to students, parents and friends who would like to attend.

Special Election Called For Sept. 4 To Decide Upon Bay St. Louis Half-cent City Sales Tax

Ted Perry Tells Of His Talk With President Eisenhower

(Copyright 1954 by the Sea Coast Echo.)

"You are really getting into it," said President Eisenhower as he was introduced to Ted Perry, Bay St. Louis boy elected president of Boy's Nation in Washington.

Ted in a long distance conversation with the Sea Coast Echo told of his experiences so far at the American Legion sponsored Boy's Nation.

He said, "President Eisenhower is a very friendly man. He kept us in a very jovial mood. He looked very tired. His face was very thin. He is a wonderful person and very kind."

"I wasn't able to talk to him for a minute or so. He is busy at this time in Washington conversing with Sygman Rhee. He explained this to us. He asked us where we were from. I presented him with a pin and a shirt from Boy's Nation. He said he would wear the shirt the next time he went golfing."

Perry was elected to the office by a vote of 62-32. He belongs to the Federalist party.

He said, "I think this was a great honor. I thought that the voting would be much closer. We had 47 members in each party—two from each state except Rhode Island."

"Thursday I will have lunch with Senator Stennis of Mississippi. Most of the boys will do the same thing with their home state Senator."

"I have met many important men since I arrived here in Washington. Among them are Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, General Ridgway, Governor King of Hawaii, many Chief of Staffs and I will meet Vice President Nixon sometime this week."

"Most of these men gave us speeches. They spoke on organization of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines, they gave us welcoming talks and gave us advice."

"In fact everyone we have met has gone out of his way for us. They realize the importance of an organization such as Boy's Nation."

He continued, "We are staying at the University of Maryland. It is a fine school. The members of Boy's Nation have a whole dormitory."

"In the next couple of days I will be on some radio programs that will come through New Orleans. I do not know yet what they will want me to do. I also will appear on some television programs."

Ted, a Stanislaus senior who was first elected as governor of Boy's State in Mississippi, appointed Pat Walker, this state's other representatives to the office of Secretary of State.

Ted spoke of the issues at hand in Boy's Nation. He said, "The Senate will meet in the old Supreme Court building this week. They will vote on giving statehood to Hawaii and Alaska and on Universal Military Training. At the present time statehood for both Hawaii and Alaska are sought with one bill. But I believe they will change this and separate the two. I strongly think that Hawaii will be accepted."

"I also think that they will pass the bill for Universal Military Training."

He is being sponsored at Boy's Nation by the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, of Bay St. Louis.

An election has been called for Saturday, September 4th, in which the voters of Bay St. Louis will decide whether or not to allow an increase of one-half a cent on the two cents sales tax now in effect.

The money according to Bay St. Louis officials, is badly needed to run the city government. Since all other proposals have failed, the sales tax must be increased or the millage on the ad valorem tax increased, they contend.

The additional one-half cent would be returned to the City by the State of Mississippi. It should net Bay St. Louis an additional $25,000 to $27,000 yearly.

According to the resolution passed by the City Council, urging the vote, the money would go for operation of the city, the water works and the schools.

The increase can be put into effect only if three-fifths of the qualified voters approve.

In a notice issued through the Echo this week, City Election Commissioners Octave Delph, Vincent Piazza and Charles Traub, Sr., were authorized to put the special election action in the works.

The polls will be open from seven in the morning until six in the evening on Saturday, the day of election.

Voters of the North Bay precinct will go to the polls at the office of Dr. C. M. Shipp, County Health officer on the ground floor of the City Hall.

Voters of the North Bay precinct will go to the office of the City tax collector on the ground floor of the City Hall.

Tabulation of votes will be made official on September 7 at ten o'clock a. m. when the Mayor and the Board of Commissioners will meet and declare the results.

Sportsweek

By GREGORY FAVRE

Football season is approaching. And with it ideas for improvement enter my mind.

There are more aspects to the game than just 22 boys opposing each other with one thought at hand: to cross the opponents goal line.

Let us look back in on the game from the spectators viewpoint. Here our only stadium, St. Stanislaus's located on Necaise Avenue is one of the oldest in this vicinity. Many outstanding and world famous athletes have displayed their wares in this square shaped brick monument.

More recently additions have been made.

Yet, there is still plenty room for more additions. The stands in this sport haven could be a little more modern. By this I mean that a patron could sit on them on a damp night without the use of some sort of paper to protect his clothing from the somewhat removable paint.

It would be a wonderful experience to be able to gaze into the crystal ball of the future and see concrete stands proudly erect and not defenseless against elements in this place that has been a home to such stars as Doc Blanchard, Markey Schwartz, Zeke Bonura and Wop Glover.

While we are gazing we may just as well have a field day. We might see permanent stands for our visitors instead of the present portable ones. And perhaps with this change there will be enough of the latter to seat the multitudes who travel here for a night's entertainment. Surely you do not wish to discourage paying customers. It is through the turnstiles that you are able to support this weekly program.

If the games are going to be announced over a public address system to inform the crowd who has the ball or who made the last tackle, it should be done for every game. Not just every once in a while.

Also a good address system should be used. And a pleasant voice should be found to do the announcing.

To some the next suggestion may seem a selfish one. Why not advance a slight bit more toward modern standards and build a press box on top of the stands? From here the announcing also could be done.

This would be a mere construction job. For one thing is sure. Anything could be more pleasant than hiking up and down the sidelines to cover local sporting events. The box does not have to be a penthouse.

If you are going to sell programs to the spectators why not give them a better means of identification. A larger program with pictures would do the trick.

Support of the team cannot be criticized except on one point. The band which has made quite an individual record should be carried to some of the games away from home.

They lend the greater portion of the home spirit and this backing could be used to advantage when the team is on a road trip. The field itself could stand some remodeling. The fifty yard line is similar to a sand storm when play is concentrated in the middle of the field.

Perhaps the worst failing of all is the lights. They are very weak and too few. Since all but the Homecoming games are held at night this should receive some immediate attention.

I leave you this week with these few thoughts. I hope that the power of suggestion will prove true. These things would definitely make football a more delightful sport to watch here. And with these improvements you would be up to date in all respects.

HELPFUL HINT
Wear dark clothes wherever possible when fishing. White can be spotted more easily by the fish, especially in clear water. Also, never underestimate the attraction of the water for sun - so keep head and body covered.

The stormy weather of last Saturday afternoon played havoc with fishing and all other sports. Fishermen had a hard time getting in and getting out. In the middle of the day and rain. Ask Teddy Steinhilber, Luke Elliott, Howard Duff and Doc Elliott who almost swamped in a 50 foot skiff up Jordan River - and was it cold!

Alden Maifrey had another fishing thrill Sunday when he hooked and landed a four pound red fish in Pearl River.

A free shrimp boil will be given Saturday night at the Pass Christian Golf Course for 100 members and guests. Time: 6:30 p. m. Come out and enjoy yourself - they'll be looking for you. Shrimp galore!

Sidney Bourgeois, Commander of the American Legion announces another annual Junior Fishing contest soon. Plans are now in the making.

Father Hug of Kansas City and Joe Hug of New Orleans while visiting in the McWayne home in Waveland did some real fishing last week. Over two hundred big speckles and six large reds was the catch. Father Hug sent some back home.

These would-be skiers could at least have some respect for those enjoying fishing, especially in the bayous and small streams. One party of five fishing Sunday were almost run over by a thoughtless skier. There is room for all fellows. Keep to your own side of the stream!

Looked good to see our old friend Sidney Prange touring the Pass Christian Isles Golf Course Saturday with Bob Genin and C. C. McDonald Sr. Sid is one of the old crowd and now lives in Houston, Texas.

Funeral Parlor To Fabulous Home For The Clever Joe Loicanos bove is a view of the semi-circular couch which forms the television section of the Loicano living room. In the rear can be seen a conversational grouping backed with plants. Also pictured is the star chandelier which lights the dining room and a view of the entrance lobby, furnished in functional modern.

A little over four years ago, the Loicanos had made plans to move into the mortuary business. They changed their minds.

And after they changed they were more or less stuck with a large modern building which was to have been the funeral home. This place on Necaise is now converted into a luxurious home for the Loicanos. It has, because of its unique beginnings, many unusual features. These have been made into a handy homemakers' haven, thanks to the ingenuity of the pretty and industrious Mrs. L. The cream colored brick structure has an exterior detail of pink marble, which in this summery climate is most effective. The wide walk leading to the house is centered with a round fountain filled with gold fish.

Just inside the front entrance (the house can be entered from all sides) is a large lobby and entrance hall, furnished in ultra modern fashion in ebony, flame and yellow. A grouping of couch with low end tables and chairs faces a gas log fireplace with a narrow mantel. From the lobby area one moves into the center hall, which is flanked on the right by a wide, green-carpeted staircase. The hall itself is large enough to accommodate tables and a chest on which Mrs. Loicano usually keeps arrangements of flowers and greenery. The rear entrance to the house, which is covered and has a large driveway, formerly planned for ambulance use - is achieved by means of a ramp which dips several feet in the rear hall. The material in the hall floor is pink and white terrazo.

There is one down stairs large bedroom with an entrance to the hall and an outside entrance also. In the rear section of the hall, corresponding to the front lobby section is a room used by Mr. Loicano as an office. Beyond this room is a small bath. Another large bath is on the opposite side of the hall from the bedroom. The tile in this bath is green and white and the room is large enough to be divided by a half-wall running from one side of the ceiling to the floor.

The huge kitchen is located on the left of the hall at the back of the house. Completely equipped with Youngstown cabinets, this room is a scientific dream of modern convenience. It's most prominent feature is a large breakfast bar which divides about one-third of the kitchen the work area - from the eating area. Just outside the kitchen is a drinking water fountain. A few steps beyond is the cozy dining room, shaded by the same vertical blinds which are used at all the downstairs windows.

Here the color scheme is black and white. Over the dining room table is a beautiful star chandelier in modern design made of a center ball and golden spikes tipped with star-like lights circling the ball at every possible angle.

Upstairs there are three spacious bedrooms and a hall large enough to be used for an upstairs living room. There is deep green carpeting in the upstairs hall.

The only "extra thumb" feature in this home is on the second floor, Mrs. Loicano said. They had built two kitchens to be used for the business - and the family has found no really practical use for the upstairs kitchen since the downstairs one is so complete.

Walls upstairs, and in the ceiling of the living room downstairs are of Ponderosa pine, some of them done in parquetry.

There is one bath upstairs. To enter it, one passes through a small foyer walled with closet space.

The final room upstairs is a play room rubber tiled and spacious; large enough for a moving picture screen and all the other ponderous equipment which goes to make play rooms so livable.

We have saved the living room for the last. It is located to the right of the front entrance and is as unusual in size as the rest of the house is in other ways.

Mr. Loicano estimated it to be 50 by 20 feet.

It is carpeted with a soft gray patterned rug and furnished with approximately two complete living rooms of furniture. One of these faces the television screen at one of the narrower walls and one grouping is a smaller conversational one in the rear of the room.

All the furniture is again modern, with two huge semi-circular couches the main feature of decoration.

Just before we left, we asked about the music filling the house. It came from a loudspeaker in a building in the yard, Mrs. Loicano said. One of the children was experimenting.

The phone rang. It was a request from a neighbor for her favorite record.

The Loicano house took four years to build and it requires about two days' steady work each week to keep it in the shining condition we found it.

"It isn't hard work, though," said Mrs. Loicano. "The materials in the house are easy to care for and cleaning is just a matter of time to vacuum and dust."

She must be right. This outstanding Bay St. Louis example of the functional modern home is obviously a pleasure to its owners and a treat to visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Doane neaux are spending vacation visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Arceneaux. They will return to their home in Houma next week.

Eric and Ronnie White,airie, New Orleans are several weeks visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wise at their home on Board avenue.

Mrs. George Curet and her Carolyn of Kiln have returned from a trip to New York and Washington. While in New York they did a lot of sightseeing, attended TV and Broadway shows and in Washington they visited the Capitol and the White House. Also Mount Vernon in Alexandria, Va. Carolyn, a St. Joseph Academy graduate, will enter nursing training at Hotel Dieu in New Orleans in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Delcuz and children, Andy and Nancy of Texarkana, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Delcuz and sons, Robert and Le-Moyne of Moorehead, Miss., are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Delcuz. While here they will visit their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Perrett and family in Gulfport, Miss.

Mrs. Hazel Morreale has returned from Pasadena and Galveston, Tex., where she vacationed with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kingston.

How Can I?

Q. How can I bleach old lace?
A. Remove the yellow spots by wetting the lace and spreading where it will freeze, or by wetting and spreading it in a very hot sun. Either method may require several days to bleach thoroughly, and the lace must be kept wet all during the process.

Q. How can I make a substitute for whipped cream?
A. Slice one banana and add it to the white of an egg. Then beat it. The banana will dissolve. This makes a delicious substitute for whipped cream.

Q. How can I prevent a colored suede belt from fading into the dress from perspiration?
A. Line the inside of the belt with a strip of waterproof adhesive tape.

Q. How can I make a cherry relish?
A. Four cups seeded cherries, one cup raisins, three cups sugar, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, two tablespoons lemon juice. Mix ingredients and boil twenty minutes. Stir frequently.

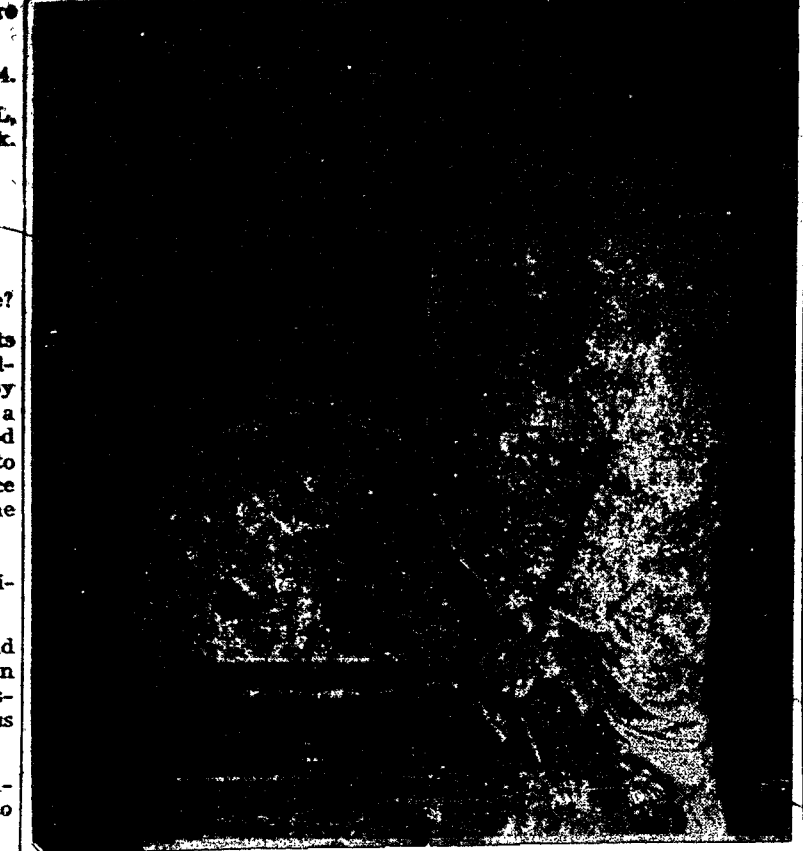

Q. How can I keep fabric from stretching out of shape when cutting it for a dress?
A. Baste around the neckline and the armholes immediately after cutting out the dress and the goods will not stretch out of shape.

Q. How can I prevent persons walking along the street from looking through window screens?
A. Try painting the screen with aluminum paint and they will not be able to see through the screen.

Q. How can I keep custard from burning while boiling?
A. Add a half-teaspoonful of cornstarch to it. Another good thing to remember is that a little salt added to the custard will prevent drying and caking in the pot, and will also improve the flavor.

Q. How can I repair the handle of an umbrella when it becomes loosened?
A. Fill the hole in the handle with powdered resin, heat the rod, press it firmly into the hole, then lay it aside for awhile to set.

Q. How can I remove fruit stains on the teeth?
A. These stains can be easily removed by rubbing them at once with a little salt.

HOT? LOCAL BOY SAYS IT'S NOT MUCH COOLER IN ALASKA

(Have you wanted to be in Alaska this time of year? The Sea Coast Echo asked Floyd LaFontaine, a local boy stationed in Anchorage, to give his impressions. The following is a letter received from him this week.)

By FLOYD S. LAFONTAINE
I guess you have the same idea of Alaska as I and a few hundred other boys had on our way here. We all expected to see polar bears, seals, ice and snow and Eskimos, but found none of these things. Instead we found a very beautiful place.

As to the weather, it is very moderate. The days are long in summer, daylight is 18 hours, 57 minutes long. Sunrise is at 2:35 A. M. and sunset 9:32 P. M. It never gets completely dark. The temperature ranges from 30 degrees at night to 75 degrees during the day. The weather doesn't differ much from what you are now having in Bay St. Louis. It is just a little cooler here at night, but it will get down below zero in the winter months.

There aren't any frozen lakes or snow here. The tips of the mountains are slightly spotted with snow, but none here whatsoever. Up in the northern part of Alaska there is a lot of ice and snow, but most of that land is uninhabited, except for a few Eskimos and Indians.

There is every form of recreation here that is in the states, swimming, golfing, bowling, hot-rod racing, fishing and hunting. This place is excellent for one who loves to fish and hunt. Moose, bear, and Caribou are plentiful and it is very common to see 4 or 5 moose at a time. Right now the Bailey Bros. and Christiani circus is here for 10 days. The whole show motored here from the states by way of the Alaskan Highway.

Nearly all the residents are people from the states. They do have a few native Indians, but they are scarcely seen around here. The girls are kind of scarce. Most of them are servicemen and construction workers' wives, but there are a few who come here on their own.

I have also seen plenty of raw gold before it was mined and rocks with veins of gold running through it. Much of the jewelry sold here is handmade with hammered gold nuggets.

You asked for my impression of Louise Smith, Mrs. Virginia Uche-lo, Mrs. Nellie Christy, Mrs. Myrtle Christy, Mrs. J. L. January, Mrs. E. S. Haro, Mrs. D. Tonkel, Mrs. S. Fayard, Mrs. M. Backman, Mrs. S. Brennan, Mrs. L. Benetz, Mrs. A. Lux, Mrs. C. G. Schaefer and Mrs. C. L. Reab.

Solve Crime

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

"Well, well, it's only the 22nd of July and you're back in Los Angeles," you explain to the impeccably-dressed gang leader as he steps off the plane at the airport. "Our idea was that you were spending the summer in Mexico."

"It's none of your business," replies Rocky Bishop, "but one of my companies seems to be having a rough time. So I came back to see what I could do about it. Here's what brought me back." And he hands you a newspaper clipping from one of the local papers, reading:

"Los Angeles, July 21—The Acme Transport Company, one of the city's oldest trucking firms, filed for bankruptcy today."

"That's too bad," you sympathize, and then, "Maybe you came back also to help your chief lieutenant, Mike Mason. We've been holding him in custody since that grocery store bombing on the 20th and since we found a letter in his possession from your instructing him to get in touch with Soupy Gilman. We were even more interested when we discovered that Soupy is connected with an ammunition company. Then we received the tip that you were arriving in town on this plane and, suspecting that you know something about the bombing, I formed a reception committee of one."

"I don't know a thing about the bombing. You certainly can't pin this rap on me!"

"We'll see about that," you say.

"Where in Mexico?" "A few miles from the city. I read about a party falling, drove down and then a couple of days later and I was here - and you too busy to talk with me."

"Oh, you're still going to plenty of talking," you say. "I and I are headed for the Attorney's office right now. Your story needs a little brushing up."

What is wrong with Bishop's story?

SOLUTION
The clue to the mystery was in the fact that Bishop said he had read about a party falling. This was a reference to the fact that the party was a fall party, not a party that fell.

"Mississippi's Growth is a Challenge"

Mississippi is growing fast in all ways, economically, industrially and agriculturally. The growth has brought an unprecedented demand for telephone service which has been a challenge to Southern Bell.

We have met this challenge with more telephone growth in the past 8 years than during the first 64 years in Mississippi. We have filled 96 percent of all the applications for new telephones received since January 1, 1946—more than doubling the total number of customers in the state and more than quadrupling our rural telephone service.

Just in 1946, the expansion has cost over $10,000,000 of investment money. To provide further needed expansion, we have received still more money from investors. To get people to furnish this money we must make a fair profit on money invested in telephone property.

New dial equipment in many new central offices has been placed in service throughout the State.

Death By Storm Comes Close To Byrd Family

Last week's storm played real havoc at the home of the Charles Byrds, for before it was over two of the seven Byrd children had narrowly escaped death.

The oldest son, Donald 13, went out to the concrete front porch which was drenched with rain. The family found him a few moments later, lying face down, unconscious. Lightning apparently struck so near it felled the youth.

His family feared him dead. But moments later he opened his blackened eyes.

"Charles was the calmest one of us," said Mrs. Byrd of her ten year old son. "He helped me lift Donald and carry him to the car. My husband was away."

In rounding up the children at that point, she found that lightning had struck again, this time at the back of the house. Six year old George was a witness to this occurrence and was found only inches away from a small blaze the flash had started. He was unhurt.

A trip to the hospital then, where it was found that Donald was in good shape despite the blow from the elements.

Mayor Scafide Elected To Coast Office

Mayor John Scafide was elected vice president of the Coast Council Municipal Associations at a meeting held in Ocean Springs this week.

The council, which is a branch of the state organization, is made up of eight coast cities, who had 18 representatives at the meeting.

Other officers elected were Mayor Allen Thompson of Moss Point, president and Carl Short, commissioner of finance of Biloxi, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Lewis Wagner Hurt By Prowler

Mrs. Lewis Wagner of 341 de Montluzin was injured Saturday night when she apparently surprised a prowler who was standing outside her door when she stepped out to feed her dog.

"I am so sick and shocked about it still," said Mrs. Wagner, "but I'm glad it wasn't more serious."

The dark-haired Bay St. Louis resident was stunned by a blow on the head, but according to the doctor's report, the damage was not severe.

"You've heard of people seeing stars. Well, I saw them. I wasn't completely knocked out," said Mrs. Wagner. "I was mostly just surprised and I think I surprised whoever was standing there."

Mrs. Wagner was alone with her children, since her husband is away at sea. She stepped outside late, she said, to coax their new dog into the house. They feared the storm would frighten the animal.

"I was foolish, I suppose, to go out like that," she said, "because we have been told of prowlers in the neighborhood lately."

The sheriff's office has not come up with any information leading to this or other prowlers, though several persons have been brought in for questioning, the authorities said.

seat, is the advice of Heitzmann.

The above named groups will join together to secure a gift to be presented to young Perry as a token of the admiration of the entire community, according to Dan M. Russell, Jr. The gift will be presented at the dinner in his honor on Monday, Russell said.

Perry was sent to Mississippi's American Legion Boys' State by the local American Legion Post. He was sponsored by the local Knights of Columbus Council. He was elected as Governor of the Magnolia State and named as delegate to Boys' Nation at the National Capital. Also going to Boy's State from Bay St. Louis was Kent Sells who was also elected to a high office at the Jackson meet. Sells was sponsored by the Rotary Club. Commander Bourgeois of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 made a statement wherein he thanked both groups for their sponsoring these two fine examples of Bay St. Louis youth. He was particularly congratulatory to Brother Roland of St. Stanislaus College for producing a student of such high attainment.

Legion Home Serves Public

In addition to the many other conveniences for the public at the Legion Home, the Club has added free ice water.

According to Lucien Kidd, club attendant, a barrel of cold ice water is placed on the porch of the Legion Home for the convenience of visitors and local residents.

The cost is small but it is a welcome gift to the visitors on the Legion's quarter-mile pier, the Captain said. We sell cold drinks but when a person is thirsty for water, nothing but cold water will quench their thirst, he said.

It is not necessary to go through the Legion Club to get to the ice water. Any person passing can go through the rear door and find plenty of cold water and sanitary drinking cups without cost to them, the Captain added.

This same route can be used to reach the Legion's free public rest rooms which are kept in sanitary condition, Kidd said. This too is a free service.

Pair Jailed For Fighting

Billy LaFontaine of this city and Robert Evans of Keesler Field were free on bond this week following their arrest Saturday on charges of disturbing the peace.

The pair was apprehended after a fight started at a local restaurant. They again started fighting on the way to jail, the authorities said.

High Winds,
High Water
For Bay Area

It wasn't a hurricane. But it was stormy enough.

The city was beset by high winds, high water and downpours, beginning Tuesday.

This latest freak of the elements followed close on the heels of two severe electrical storms, which were the weather highlights of the past two weeks.

Citizens were accustomed to hauling out lamps and candles when the electricity went out. They were getting used to clothing out to their boats and small craft to bail out.

The weather advisory received at St. Stanislaus College said Monday that winds up to 35 miles an hour were expected.

On Tuesday the weather advisory stated that 35 to 40 miles an hour winds were in evidence.

The rainfall measured at the college was .76 on Tuesday night.

But high tides were flooding the beach area roads and many of the Waveland lawns were under water.

Horace Williams Jordan, was the swimming party noon. To the dance, there was a side show into the water. Many thrilling moments attended were: Phyllis Lyn Curet, Bobby Clapp, Dianne Seuzeneau, John Weston, Jeannine Seuzeneau, Paul Henley, Karen Kergosien, David Treutel, Pam Crasto, Alvin Scafidi, Janelle Egloff, Douglas Talbot, Dot Larroux, Humphrey Kersanac, Carol Sue Banderet, Donnie Landers, Jean Smith, Louis Ladner, Rusty Breath, Sonny Blanke, Jackie DeBen, Ernie Yates, Sister Sullivan and Bernard Wolfe.

Sunday night Patsy Salsbury, and Pam Crasto, Alvin Scafidi, Janelle Egloff, Douglas Talbot, Dot Larroux, Humphrey Kersanac, Carol Sue Banderet, Donnie Landers, Jean Smith, Louis Ladner, Rusty Breath, Sonny Blanke, Jackie DeBen, Ernie Yates, Sister Sullivan and Bernard Wolfe.

Connie Ripple and Rusty Breath spent last Thursday and Friday in New Orleans where they went to see the CAAU swimming meet at Audubon Park. While in Orleans, they stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Ripple.

Joe Cook returned Sunday on a seven-week vacation trip to Colorado and California.

The members of the Bay St. Louis Teen-Age Club held their meeting last Saturday night at Audubon Park. The discussion plans for the August dance which will be sometime August. As yet, no final date has been set.

Jo Ann Banister returned Sunday from Slidell, La., where she was visiting Joan LePeyron.
